DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Claims 3, 5-7 and 10-30 are canceled

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 10, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding claims 41-44, independent claim 41 is essentially the body of claim 1, except that the word “ comprising” has been substitute by the word ---consisting essentially of---. The Campbell reference clearly discloses the specified structure elements that the Applicant's representative is claiming and those structures do not materially affect the basic and novel characteristics of the claimed invention. In re Herz, 537 F.2d 549, 551-52, 190 USPQ 461, 463 (CCPA 1976). The Campbell et al reference discloses two bone blocks and a tendon that is connected by the two bone blocks by a naturally occurring tendon-to-bone attachment.

A consisting essentially of claim occupies a middle ground between closed claims that are written in a consisting of format and fully open claims that are drafted in a comprising format. PPG Industries v. Guardian Industries, 156 F.3d 1351, 1354, 48 USPQ2d 1351, 1353-54 (Fed. Cir. 1998). See also Atlas Powder v. E.I. duPont de Nemours & Co., 750 F.2d 951, 137 USPQ 893 (CCPA 1963); Water Technologies Corp. vs. Calco, Ltd., 850 F.2d 660, 7 USPQ2d 1097 (Fed. Cir. 1988). For the purpose of searching for and applying prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103, absent a clear indication in the specification or claims of what the basic and novel characteristics actually are, "consisting essentially of" will be construed as equivalent to "comprising."

See e.g. PPG, 156 F. 3d at 1355, 48 USPQ2d at 1355.

Regarding independent claims 1 and 38, no changes have been made. Therefore, the rejections are maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 8, 9 and 31-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Campbell et al US Patent 5,067,962 in view of McGuire US Patent 5,562,669.

Campbell et al discloses a bone tendon bone graft comprising two bone plugs (23 & 24) connected by a tendon (16). The bone plugs are shaped in a dowel (see Fig. 3), comprise exterior, interior surfaces, having a groove (25 & 26). Finally, the bone plugs are made of xenograft material (see abstract).

Campbell et al discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Campbell et al does not disclose a groove along its length.

McGuire discloses first and second bones having a plurality of longitudinal grooves and connected to each other by a graft ligament. Additionally, McGuire is capable of being pulled through a bone tunnel, can be utilized bi-directionally and the bone block is a cylindrical dowel.

Art Unit: 3738

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to add a longitudinal groove along the length of the bone blocks in order to insert an interference screw and connect the graft to the patient.

Regarding claim 9, the threads can be done by the insertion of the interference screw.

Regarding claim 31, McGuire discloses bone blocks capable of been utilized bi-directionally (see Figs. 1, 4a and 4b).

Regarding claims 34 and 37, at the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the shape of the Campbell et al reference by having a cylindrical shape or square cross section because Applicant has not disclosed that the cylindrical shape provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with taper shape of the Campbell et al reference because it will perform equally the same.

Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Campbell et al reference to obtain the invention as specified in claim 34.

Regarding claim 35, Campbell et al disclose the claimed invention except for a cylindrical dowel diameter of 9 through 12mm. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the diameter of the Campbell et al reference with the optimum value of 9 through 12mm, since it has been held that finding an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F. 2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).
